PERMANENT VOTE ROLL CUTS DOWN REGISTRATION

By THOMAS B. MALARKEY

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26—Effect of the permanent registration law has cut into California's registered voter list to such an extent that there will be 3068,40 fewer citizens qualified to vote at the June 27 special election.

The total vote registration for the state is 2,582,173 as compared with the list, just prior to the 1932 general election, of 2,889,013. Every county in the state showed a derease.

Nevada county's registrated vote today is 6,253 as compared to 6,905 just before the November general election. Total number of precincts in this county is 38.

Charles Hagerty, deputy secretary of state ,said the loss in voting strength was mainly attributable to the effect of the permanent registration law. This act, approved by the 1931 legislature, provides if any citizen fails to exercise his vote franchise two consecutive state elections, is stricken off the registerd vote list.

Many thousands, of course, passed up the 1932 August primaries and the general election the following November. In consequence their names were taken off the list.

Because of widespread interest and vital effects of most of the eleven proposals on the ballot, state officials anticipate a huge vote at the June 27 special election. Main magnet which will draw the citizens to the polls is, of course, the prohibition question. That issue, it is said, would alone propel enough people to the polls almost to equal a general election vote.

BOB THARP HOME FROM DIST. ATTORNEY CONCLAVE

Deputy District Attorney Robert Tharp returned Sunday from a state convention of district attorneys held last week in Santa Barbara. He states that, following the session of legislature which placed on hte statute books many new laws and amendments, the session proved highly instructive. Santa Barbara's hospitality was of the traditional Spanish pioneer type, and he declares he never spent a more profitable or pleasant week.

The Nevada City high school band will head Nevada City's division in the big Fourth of July parade in Grass Valley. Carl Tobiassen, chairman of the Nevada iCty committee, in charge of organizing this community's representation in the event, states that he expects to have ten fine floats following the Nevada City high school band.

FRENCH CORRAL

By MRS. KATE M. F. SULLIVAN

FRENCH CORRAL, June 26—The return to cool weather for the past few weeks is quite welcome. The sudden siege of extreme heat placed our French Corral correspondent on the blink but we will endeavor to make up for lost time.

With the San Juan Cherry Carnival just over, and the 4th of July just ahead, we should be kept busy.

The French Corral mine is going ahead with preparations for big work and the frequent report of blasting brings back the memory of the old mining days.

Many prospectors are around, mining on a small scale.

Many from this place were in attendance at the Cherry Carnival, and there many old time friends met. The dancing, baseball, and other sports were enjoyed by the younger set.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Chatty and sons came to French Corral last week. Mr. Chatty returned to San Francisco, after a short visit. Mrs. Chatty and children will make an extended visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Culver.

Mrs. G. Maddock with her son and daughter were recent visitors from Los Angeles. Her husband is interested in the French Corral mine.

Miss Theresa O'Connor of Birchville went to Oakland last week. She will be in attendance at Grand Parlor, N. D. G. W. as a delegate from Columbia Parlor, No. 70. She was accompanied by her sister, Miss Lucy O'Cononr, who will visit relatives in the bay cities.

Arthur O'Connor is spending his vacation at his home in Birchville.

Harry Browning who has been workking in Brown's Valley since last spring, returned to his home in this place Saturday. He was accompanied by his friend Glenn Sylvia who will visit here for the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Dudley of Nevada City and Miss Frances Moulton were week end visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Moulton.

C. B. Thompson, E. De Golia, and G. Ferri of San Francisco visited their friends Mr. and Mrs. F. Miller of this place Sunday.

Mrs. Irene Burnett of San Francisco, who spent the past week with her son, Wm. Burnett and family of Sweetland, went to Sacramento today, where she will visit with her daughter for a week before returning to her home in the city. Mrs. Burnett's father, the late A. Fullweiler, was a pioneer of that year and again in 1851-52 when he brought his family to California. He first located in Cherokee, Tyler now, and later in French Corral. Mrs. Burnett spent her 9th birthday in French Corral, where she grew to womanhood. She was married to the late Wm. Burnett and for many years they resided here. Later the family moved to Sweetland where they resided for many years. By the way, her marriage ceremony took place in the building that is now our schoolhouse. Mrs. Burnett has a wonderful memory and at 90 years can give a clear and most interesting accunt of French Corral history. Her son, Fred, accompanied her to Sweetland.

Mr. P. O'Connor of Fairmead was a recent visitor. Mrs. Bowes and family accompanied him on his return trip Monday. Mr. Bowes and son, Earl, will remain here for a while.

Messrs. J. Langley, C. English, and B. Powers of Bakersfield had business here today.

Messrs. Browning, Miller and Dillon returned to You Bet Sunday evening after spending the week end in tis place.

E. Buffington of Oakland was a recent visitor.

Llod Haslett, Mrs. Sullivan and Miss A. Stockdell were Nevada City visitors Monday.

Again the Reaper calls our friends. M. Sullivan of San Francisco, whose wife was Miss Nelly Fogarty of Birchville, passed away June fourth. Mr. Fogarty went to San Francsico to be with his sister during her bereavement. Our sympathy goes out to those who have lost a kind husband and father.

J. B. Miller, a native of Sweetland whose childhood, boyhood and early manhood days were spent in French Corral, passed away at University Hospital June 7th after a long illness from heart trouble. Like his father, the late N. C. Miller, he followed the mining business. He was well known in this county and his many friends will regret his passing. His remains were cremated and later will be interred in the family plot at North San Juan.

Firemen Halt Bad Threat of Disaster

Quick response of the fire department to an alarm and vigorous and well directed action saved the Service garage, corner of Spring and Pine streets Saturday evening from complete destruction. Thefi ree broke uot shortly before 6 o'clock in the evening and Stenger Williamson, woring in the rear of the garage, was the rst to discover it. He called the fire department which responded at once, but in the few seconds before its arrival the flames spread from the to pof the office room, within the walls, to the roof timbers, and was making fast headway when checked by the firemen with their streams of water.

Danger that the fire would cause an explosion of gasoline in the glass reservoirs in the front of the building was averted by the firemen. All cars in the interior of the building were removed but three of them were somewhat scorched. Owing to the presence of much oil and grease the flames spread easly and rapidly

Fire Chief Byron Landrigan, his assistants, and the firemen, received much well merited praise for their successful battle with the flames which not only saved the building from destruction but prevented the flames from sperading into a disastrous general conflagration.

Damage to the building was covered by insurance. The origin of the fire was attributed to a short circuit.

Industrial Organization For Mining

San Francisco, June 26—The first step in organizing the mining industry of the nation under the Industrial Recovery Act took place at the Mayflower Hotel, Washington, D. C. this morning. Charles H. Segerstrom, vice president of the First National Bank of Sonora, presided and outlined the procedure by which the various groups of the industry may approach the government under the act.

Henry W. Gould of San Francisco, a director in the Mining Association of California, represents the quicksilver producers in the rare metals division and the mining industry of California in the other groups.

Gould was invited to attend by Secretary J. F. Callbreath of the American Mining Congress, who stated that the meeting will organize the rare metals and non-metals divisions. Other divisions of the mining industry are probably to be organized at the same time.

Carrying out the plans of President George W. Starr and other directors of the Mining Association of California, as well as the large gold producers of the state, who are members of the Association, Gould will co-operate with Segerstrom in working for a free gold market at the meeting.

Mrs. Parsons Hostess To St. Agnes Guild

Mrs. C. E. Pasons entertained St. Agnes Guild at fourteen tables of bridge on the spaciaus lawn of the beautiful grounds of the Gillet Nursery, Thursday afternoon.

It presented a pretty sight as the players sat at tables here and there under the trees, the green lawn, and many flowers in blossom.

Several hours were spent in playing contract and auction bridge and Mah Jongg. High scores in contract bridge were made by Mrs. A. A. Hoffman, Mrs. W. E. Wright and Miss Minnie Brand, iwth Mrs. Jas. Hutchison receiving the consolation gift. Those winning high scores in auction bridge were Mrs. George Stine and Mrs. Robert Nye, and Mrs. J. M. McCullough won consolation award. Mrs. Mary Ellen Robbins and Mrs. Lyda Talbot won prizes in Mah Jongg. Mrs. Douglas Farmer won the door prize.

Rev Dawson and wife of Oakland were present to greet many friends as he was the rector of Emmanuel church in Grass Valley sevral years ago.

EXCHANGE FOR MINING FORMED IN GRASS VALLEY

With scores of mining property listings classified and indexed, the Grass Valley Mining Exchange, allied with the Grass Valley Chamber of Cammerce committee through identical membership is prepared to offer a wide range of information on mining subjects to newcomers to the county.

William Esterly and Love Freeman of Grass Valley, officers of the mining exchange and the committee have been busy in securing and building up files of placer and quartz claims with notations of the degrees of development and what the projects have to offer investors. Scouts in the Downieville, Graniteville and Washington sections have added to the files.

The idea of a mining exchange to make avaiable to newcomers, accurate and truthful descriptions of mining properties resulted from the experience of Mr. Esterly, who came to Grass Valley on a mining proposition, which lacked just those things that he is desirous of incorporating in the exchange for mining men who will follow.

The territory covered by the exchange will include Nevada and Sierra counties and oprtions of Placer, El Dorado and Butte county mining districts.

Purchase, bond and lease price of the property, its present condition, what amount of capital will be necessary to investigate its possibilities are some of the elements which will be given in a report.

The present objective of the exchange is 200 listings, but ultimately every mining endeavor in the territory will be classified and indexed, not alone for promotional ends but for travel and tourist information.

MRS. H. F. BRADY, OF FOREST, IS SUMMONED

Mrs. H. F. Brady of Forest died Saturday morning. She had been ill with a heart attack for several weeks. When she first became ill the malady was thought to be acute indigestion but later it was found that her heart was affected.

Mrs. Brady came around the Horn from eastern Canada to San Francisco and in 1883 she settled in Forest where she ived the rest of her life. She was loved by all who knew her. She leaves to mourn her passing, four daughters, Mrs. Mott, Mrs. Rose Miller, Mrs. E. J. Wyllie, Mrs. M. D. Morrison, a hister, Mrs. Mary Dugan, and granddaughters.

Many close relatives were near the bedside when the end came, peacefully, in the sam manner in which she had lived her useful life.

She had a wide circle of friends who mourn her passing.

Funeral services were held this morning in Forest under direction of A. M. Holmes Funeral Home.

The Trinity Guild of the Episcopal chuch held a most successful food sale last Wednesday at the Masonis hall, comomnly occupied by the American Legion and the Boy Scouts.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M .Martin and daughter, Louise, and Miss Evelyn Lais of San Francisco returned home after a two week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Walmsley of Nevada City.

Mrs. Frances Hogan entertained at a bridge tea Friday in honor of her cousin, Miss Dorothy Essner, who is here visiting.

SHARP SHOOTER CITY GIRL PLUGS BOB CAT IN EYE AT NIGHT

Camptonville, June 23—One is prone to believe that some of the people from the cities who spend their vacations in the mountains are tenderfeet and not versed in crafts of the forests. This idea proved slightly in error this week when two young ladies who are erecting a summer home at Campbells Gulch, a mile west of town, came across a wild cat running amuck at night, and plugged him square in the eye, the only part of the animal visible at night.

This proves that they can hit their mark, and may even show up some of the marksmen of the forests. The veracity of this story is vouched for by Oscar O. Klott, well known globe trotter, who is visiting here, and Jacob Dietrich, pioneer resident of this section, who saw the animal.

Employment Increases

Employment increases in many divergent industries, advancing live stock prices, and improvement in the canning industry, retail sales, building activity and bank debits are factors noted by the Bank of America Business Review as indicative that California business showed definite betterment last month. The bank's index of Far Western business stood at 56.7 in May against 56.5 in April and 53.8 in March

Outstanding increases in the number of employees during May over the corresponding month of 1932 were recorded by the fruit and vegetable canners, beverage manufacturers, tanners, confectioners, millers, sugar producers, glass manufacturers, and clotheirs.

The advance in prices for livestock, the increased demand and price of hides and wool and reports of favorable range conditions throughout this territory have brought renewed optimism to the livestock men of the west, according to the review. The heartening effect of these encouraging factors is reflected throughout eleven western states which are responsible for 20 per cent of the beef, 55 per cent of the wool and 33% of the hides produced in the United States.

Plans for control of the 1933 pack of California cannin gfruits, coupled with a virtual elimination of stocks in the hands of the packers, place the industry in a position to command profitable prices during the coming year. As of June 1 last, stocks of peaches, apricots and cherries were 77 per cent below their total as of June 1, 1932. Total sales of canned goods during the 12 months ended June 1, 1933 showed an increase of 25 per cent over the volume for the preceding 12 months.

WIDOWS STATUS AND PENSION RESTORED

SACRAMENTO, June 26—(UP)

When is a widow not a widow, seems to be a case of whether the federal or state government decides the qustion.

District Attorney James F. Hoey of Contra Costa county asked a ruling from Attorney General U. S. Webb in a case involving filing of veterans' tax exemption claims. The woman, widow of a Civil war veteran, remarried and the federal government discontinued her pension. Later her second husband died and she filed a claim for reinstatement of the pension. She also asked state tax exemption. Her claim that she was still the widow of her first husband was disallowed by Hoey, who was upheld by Webb.

John Motteni, county truck driver, of Downieville hauled a large truck load of Red Cross flour from Nevada City to his home town for the Sierra county chapter of Red Cross, where it will be distributed among the needy. Mr. Motteni's wife accompanied him on the trip.

GIANNINI LIKES BANK DEPOSIT GUARANTEE ACT

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26—Restrictive regulations of the Glass-Steagall Bill are beneficial to the banking structure of the Nation, in the opinion of A. P. Giannini, Chairman of the Board of the Bank of America.

"The new banking law is valuable because it brings our national banking regulations up to the minute," Mr. Giannini said, "It supersedes egislation that was antiquated—designed for a period of banking development which is now entirely a thing of the past.

"The deposit guarantee feature has always seemed to me unnecessary if banks are operated properly under adequate supervision, but it is justifiable on this ground, if on no other: It will bring about a unified national banking system, an accomplishment which could never have been successful had Congress attempted it in the ordinary course of events ,confronted with the prejudices of the 'States Rights' adherents.

"If governmental guarantee of deposits had to come, this was the most propitious time in the history of the country, with everything at bottom and the minimum number of banks in operation. The banks which are open, those which could pass muster during a period of deflated values, surely will be stronger as values advance, and consequently the deposit insurance risk is less at this ime it may ever be again.

"The Glass-Steagall Bill gives governmental endorsement to branch banking, which the Bank of America has successfully pioneered in California. In my opinion it is the forerunner of legislation which eventually will extend branch banking to a nationwide scale ,as is the case in all other countries .

"One significant feature of the the Bill which should not be overlooked is the provision that minority stockholders of a national bank have the right to elect representatives on the board of the institution in proportion to the stock they hold, through cumulative voting privileges .

"The sections of the Bill dealing with operations of holding companies and security affiliates offer no obstacles to the operation of Transamerican Corporation and compliance with theterms of the new legislation can be effected without difficulty.

SHORT, SHARP TREMBLER VISITS NEVADA CITY

An earthquake of such unusual intensity tha it broke the needle of the seismograph at Reno, where it manifested itself most severely, visited Nevada City at 12:43 yesterday. The tremblor did no known damage here, but several persons were badly scarded and started for the wide open spaces hereabouts before the quake spent itself.

Pied Pipers

The Pied Piper of the fairy tale sweetly piped away all the rats from the city of Hamlin. Then because the city council refused to pay the fee they had promised for this service he revengefully trilled an even more seductive tune on his pipe and led away all the children from the village.

Today there are at least four major Pied Pipers, playing enchanting melodies to four different nations. But since they play for the entertainment, the "drawing away" of the people each in his own country, the world result is a discord. In Russia, Stanlin pipes, and 160 million people dance and follow him.

In Italy it is Mussolini, and in Germany Hitler, who fingers the stops and leads on the Teutons. In this country, Congress, with the great majority of Americans approving, have confered upon Roosevelt the powers of a dictator. In no case of course does any dictator hold his office without unction from the people, though in Russia and in Italy—yes and in Germany, we suspect there is a large minority of critics, who fear these Pied Pipers will, after ridding the community rats, will also lead away the children. Or to use a homely metaphor, throw out the baby with the bath.

And here is the real danger of Pied Pipers and of dictators. Dictators appear historicall in all periods of the world convulsion. Some one man must be chosen to think and act for the millions. The people must be lead out of the wilderness of their ills by a Pied Piper. For the modern Piper prefers to lead the people from their vast distress, rather than to pipe away the distress, typified by the rats.

But will the millions thus served know when they will have been well served, know when it is time to keep their implied promise, pay off the Pied Piper, dismiss him, and return again to normal, or at least what for a better word, we term the normal. Or will he, having once tasted power, having once become entranced by his own tune, continue to pipe, continue to lead his millions, and, this time to greater dangers and greater ills than they have escaped.

The great danger is the great discord of four major dictators each piping a nationalistic tune. The discord of words and wills at the London Conference, for instance, may lead to the cruel discord of war.

There are two kinds of leadership in the world. One the exemplary, in which an individual solves his own problems, lives within his own confines, is self contained and content to take the best of what he has, without envy and without emulation of his wealthier and more powerful neighbors. He, by his example, gives others a thought toward following the road to contentment. It is potent leadership pointing the way toward peace and friendship.

The other l eadership is the aspiring leadership that reaches ever outward to convince those who differ, to move the multitude, to wave flags, to hurl denunciations, appeals, and prayers over the loud speaker, to bluster in black headlines, to coerce, to sound he alarum, and move the brave and the thoughtless to action. In short, to lead, even though it be to war.

The United States, if the London conferencee should fail, and at the moment here is every indicaion that it will, will have but one course to pursue. Call it isolationist, if you will, but that course will be the logical course after the bitter lesson of the World War and the present depression.

Let us keep to our boundaries, cultivate our own fields, trade with our own neighbors on our own terms or not at all, keep the peace, our own peace, by force, if necessary, and let the world wag as it will. Let us set our house in order and cultivate those virtues that make for strength and sound character, as individuals and as a nation.

Thus will we lead the world, not by force nor trumpets, but by example. Let us remain aloof from all world contentions, all world wars, and let us refuse to help any nation to make wars. Thus we shall preserve our own country and keep our rich inheritance for our children.

FAILS TO PAY FINE, MAY GO TO JAIL

CAMPTONVILLE, June 26— A bench warrant was issued in the Camptonville Justice Court Wednesday by Judge Acton M. Cleveland for the arrest of F. D. Terry of North Sacramento. Terry was arrested several months ago by Traffic Officer A. J. Ponto, and convicted by a jury in the local court on a charge of driving on the wrong side of the highway. He was fined $25. and given five weeks to pay the fine, $5. per week. He made the first payment and failed to send any more. The sentence also included 10 days in the county jail which will be the alternative for the unpaid fine.

GLOBE TROTTER GUEST IN CAMPTONVILLE

CAMPTONVILLE, June 26—Forest Ranger Frank W. Meggers has as his guest Oscar O. Klott, well known globe trotter from Sheboygan Wisconsin. This is the second time Klott has visited here, and after seeing so much of the rest of the world, thinks this place one of the best places of his travels. Klott has hitch-hiked from west to east and north to south and has been to almost every corner of the map, and has been able to make almost as good time as if he was traveling in a conveyance of his own. He and Meggers were boys together at Sheboygan.

STATE TESTS OIL AND GASOLINE

SACRAMENTO, June 26—(UP)—Armed with important new legislation state officials are in a better position than ever to assure Nevada county motorists they will receive pure gasoline and motor oils.

This is the opinion of John S. Casey, state sealer of weights and measures, in charge of enforcing the oil standards laws.

One of the most important of the new laws ,according to Caseys, provides that no motor fuel, oil or crude oil may be brought into the state without the importer obtaining a permit from Casey's division. The law requires a fee of $25 for each such permit to make enforcement self supporting.

"In this way," Casey explained, "we can inspect and test the gasoline and oil at the source of entry. If it proves to be up to state specifications, then it can be delivered to distributors. Otherwise it will have to be sent back."

In discussing the measure Casey revealed the unceasing fight his division is waging against so-called "bootleggers" of gasoline and oil which does not meet state specifications.

"Much of our work is done at night when the heavy tank trucks are on the road," he said.

Trucks are stopped, tests are made of their load. If the gas or oil isn't up to standard "back they go."

The division has developed lots of little tricks to determine when enferior products are being sold. One of them is a gadget that diverts oil apparently poured into a motor inlet. Actually the oil goes into a can under the motor. It is labeled then tested. If it doesn't meet the requirements of that special oil or isn't "as advertised," you may be sure the dealer will hear about it.

SACRAMENTO, June 26—(UP)—Two Sacramento city firemen recently were credited with saving eighteen lives during a fire—but it's doubtful whether they will receive official recognition for their heroic deed.

Assigned to the grass burning crew of the department, the two started to burn the high grass from a lot in the Curtis Oaks district. Suddenly, from the center of the lot, hemmed in by flames, came a series of piteous cries.

The firemen plunged through the blazing grass and dragged to safety two-half grown kittens.

ARBUCKLE, June 26—(UP)—Success in mid-summer hatching depends to considerable extent on the kind of eggs used, in the opinion of two local Boy Scouts.

While playing among stacks of lumber in the yards of the Diamond Match Company, Dick Johnson and his chum, Dick Patton, found a nest of gopher snake eggs. There were 40 eggs in the bunch, each about half an inch long.

The boys interested in nature study, permitted the eggs to hatch. They placed them in a pile of sand and let the sun's rays do the rest.

PROTECT YOUR PROFITS
The Farm "35"

FARMERS: You are using many different methods of "cold" storage—screen coolers, stone houses and cellars, ice boxes, and ELECTRIC REFRIGERATION. To those of you who are NOT enjoying the proven advantages of all year 'round AUTOMATIC refrigeration, we want to explain some of the practical benefits of the new FARM "35". Custom-built for the average size farm, it solves the problem of heat-spoilage that is constantly wasting your food and money.

You already know the service and savings that domestic model ELECTRIC REFRIGERATORS have brought to millions. THIS Farm Refrigerator gives even more. The same dependable, uniform cold EARNS as well as saves. Ample room has been provided for SALABLE PRODUCE. Dairy products, poultry, and "fancy" perishables, kept chilled and firm, bring better prices. In the same spacious compartments there is room for family supplies, bought in larger quantities at substantial savings. Farm-killed meat will be improved with proper hanging. More farm-grown produce can be used at home. Kitchen drudgery and kitchen waste will both disappear.

It has been proved that once-in-a-while refrigeration is not enough. Old-fashioned methods, at best, require constant attention to maintain safe temperatures, and many are not effective at all. The FARM "35" will do away with all spoilage losses, and keep your produce in perfect condition for profitable marketing. For sizes, prices, and easy terms write or telephone the nearest P. G. & E. office or see your Frigidaire dealer.

NORTH SAN JUAN, June 26—Staying at the hotel the past week have been Mr. Salisbury and Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey of San Francisco; Mr. Hartman and son and Mrs. Harrison and son of Glendale, and Mr. Cziekowitz of Nevada City. The gentlemen are mining men and have been looking over various mining properties.

The Ladies Aid held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. W. R. Burnett of Sweetland. A picnic dinner was spread at noon under an immense live-oak tree and a special treat were the buscuits and coffee made by the hostess out of doors on a real camp stove.

San Juan celebrated the week end by holding its annual cherry carnival beginning Saturday night with a dance which was well attended. The music was furnished by a Yuba City orchestra. In one corner of the hall was a fortune telling booth where a very elaborately dressed gypsy told fortunes.

Sunday morning some very enjoyable music was furnished on the hotel porch by Tex Weaver and other popular musicians.

The streets were tastefully decorated with spruce trees and green branches made the cherry and ice-cream booths attractive. In the afternoon a ball game played at Tabor's Field by the San Juan and Rackerby teams. The score was 8 to 7 in favor of San Juan. The proceeds from the carnival are to go towards purchasing temporary fire equipment for the town.

American Heroines

By LOUISE M. COMSTOCK

Nannie Hutchins

TALL, brown and strong the men, buxom and brave the women who earned heroism in the winning of the West, and strange it is to picture among that gallant company a little six-year-old girl with wide eyes and golden curls. Yet Nannie Hutchins is still a favorite when old frontiersmen gather to swap yarns of the 'eighties, and wrinkled Wichita braves will still recount over a slow pipe the debt their tribe owes this little yellow headed white girl.

Nannie was a daughter of a teacher at the Cheyenne agency near the site of the present city of El Reno, Okla. In 1875, when she was just turned six, a smallpox epidemic of startling menace broke out, and the red men, to whom smallpox means certain death, became terrified. Nannie's uncle, John D. Miles, agent at Cheyenne, sent to Wichita, two hundred miles away, for vaccine, and innoculated with it Nannie and as many of the Indians as he could supply. Then came frantic calls from neighboring agencies for vaccine to halt the raging disease in Indian territory outposts. But the supply was gone, and it would be two weeks before more would arrive.

Then Doctor Given of the Wichita agency, who had hurried 45 miles to Cheyenne in his vain quest for vaccine, looked at Nannie's arm, all red and swollen with the recent injection. From it he could secure enough virus to vaccinate a great many of his own people. Could he take Nannie back with him? Mrs. Hutchins demurred. She was a widow and Nannie was her baby. Finally, however, she consented, and the doctor and the little girl, with Finlay Ross, an Indian fighter, set out on their journey along the famous Chisholm trail, where in those days the white man traveled in constant danger of Indian attack and frightful death. Many anxious hours later when they had gained Wichita in safety, the vaccinating began. Those safeguarded by the virus from Nannie's arm, in turn supplied virus for others, and most of the Wichitas and many of the Kiowas were thus saved.

KENTUCKY BOYS ENJOY MILLER RANCH CAMP

CAMPTONVILLE, June 21—The C. C. C. Camp at Millers ranch, above here, is in full swing with plenty of activity and is fast taking the form of a young city. There was practically nothing there when the men arrived except the ground, and since then materials have been brought in and the quarters are takking shape. Captains Williams and MacAdams are in charge, and are well pleased with the location, this being one of the nicest camp locations of the state. Fred C. Kendayy and George E. Butz, local men are at the camp and will have charge of some of the reforestration work. Kenneth Schurr, Jack Humphrey and Winsmore Chapman are the only local boys at this camp.

All the boys in this camp are from Kentucky, and they are enjoying the country very much. On the trip out, they were disappointed with the Rocky Mountains, but what they lacked was made up by the gradueur of the Sierra Nevadas from Donner Lake on.

The fire fighting game is a new one to them, and will be quite an experience. On the Cherokee fire a few days ago, one of the Rangers was starting a back fire, and it greatly alarmed some of the boys, an act which they could not understand, they had been brought out to put out the fire, and here the Ranger was strating another one! The boys are being accepted by the residents of the towns in the vicinity, but before long many of the natives will have learned or adopted some of the phrases of the southerners such as "What you all doing?" And the westerners must explain to their southern visitors how much money two or six bits represents.

Mrs. Acton Cleveland motored to Marysville Wednesday on a short visit.

ENGLEBRIGHT TO SPEAK AT STATE FAIR MINES DAY

Congressman Harry L. Englebright will give a luncheon address Friday September 8th at the State Fair in Sacramento. The eighth will also be known as Mining Day at the fair and besides the address there is to be quite a large program, including songs by Grass Valley carol singers, a double hand jack drilling contest, old time dances by Amador children and a comprehensive mineral display by the state division of mines, and gold panning contests at the county mineral exhibits.

The Sacramento Chamber of Commerce worked out the program for the day with chairman J. O. Tohey, presiding. He reported that Governor James Rolph, Jr., would issue a proclamation setting aside that day in celebrating California's first great industry.

SAVE YOUR . . . . Homes And Farms!

California is face to face with a tax crisis which involves the welfare, if not the very existence, of millions of farmers, home-owners and business men.

Taxation of property has actually become confiscation!

There is only one answer . . . .

Lighten the Load

It guarantees:

1.—An immediate reduction of 38 MILLION DOLLARS in taxes on real property—a 20 per cent slash in the tax bills of homes and farms!

2.—Strict limitation of state and local spending, halting governmental extravagance.

3.—Return of utility property to local tax rolls—taxed on the same basis as common property—after January 1, 1935, making another big saving for general taxpayers.

If you want tax equality, tax reduction and strict economy . . . . .

IMPORTANT MEETING OF SKI CLUB TONIGHT

The Nevada City-Grass Valley Ski Club president, Sheriff George R. Carter, wishes to have a large attendance of members present at the meeting this evening in order to come to some decision as to the leasing or selling of a portion of the club's proerty near the Central House.

The officers of the club are anxious that the most advantageous course be taken and want a good attendance present to decide on either of the propositions.

After Long Years

They builded a city fair and great
On the flame swept hills by the Golden Gate.
With tears for the old and faith in the new,
They wrought with hearts that were fond and true,
Til scarcely a trace was left to tell
Of the earthquake's shock or the fire's dread spell.

And then there arose by the wide blue bay,
A magic city, the dream of a day;
With smiling portals and gleaming towers,
With lisping fountains and fragrant flowers,
And throngs from the whole world gathered there,
Its wonders to see and its joy to share.

Soon ,all to soon from the jeweled tower,
They sounded taps for the last sad hour,
And the vision faded from earth away;
But the mem'ry of beauty is ours today,
And the brave new city of destiny
Stands guard on the hills by the sun-down sea.

And I thinkAnd I think as I dream of the dear, dead days,
Of the city we lost and her olden ways,
Of the labor and love of the pioneers
Who shaped her fate thru the golden years—
The vision we glimpsed by the silvery bay,
Was the soul of the city that passed away.

A. MERRIAM CONNER.

Of this poem our beloved California poet, A. J. Waterhouse once wrote;—

"Long years have passed since that sad day when a large part of San Francisco went up in fire and smoke and its people were left to mourn their vanished lares and penates. Later there arose between the sea and the bay that magic city which we termed the Exposition.

Much has been written both in verse and prose of both these events, but it seems to me that the most beautiful, the most truly poetic, of all such writings that I have seen it the little poem of which Mrs. F. E. Conner is the author.

Read the last verse again or yet again. for if you happen to care for poetry that is poetry. It will re-pay more than one reading."

PROBATIONER WANTED HERE, FOUND IN S. F.

Sheriff George R. Carter has been notified by the San Francisco police that William E. Creighton wanted by the Nevada county sheriff's office for failure to report during the period of his probation, has been located in the bay city. Creighton was located when he was injured in an automobile accident.

NOTHING DOES SO MUCH FOR SO LITTLE AS YOUR TELEPHONE

A single telephone call may be worth more to you than your telephone costs in a lifetime

WHEN split-seconds count, who shall measure the telephone's value? When odor of smoke or crackle of flames occur,—when a doctor is needed—what serves so swiftly, dependably?

But your telephone's value goes far beyond emergencies. It reaches neighbors, friends in town, markets.

A telephone does much—costs little.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Pocahontas Adopted Two Pale Faces

A regular meeting of Ponemah Council No. 6, Degree of Pocahontas was held last week at which time two pale faces were adopted into the order, making 19 to be adopted within the last six months.

At this meeting it was decided to donate $2.00 a month towards money being raised to hold band concerts in Nevada City this summer.

Mrs. Lenore Coughlin was recommended for district deputy, while Elma Hecker, Nettie Gildersleeve, Helen Kieffer and Grace Englebright were elected delegates with Elsie Dent, Aleene Lewis, Lila Ray and G. Evans as alternates to attend the great council session which will convene in Modesto August 15 to 19.

Honors Showered On Retiring Teacher

Mrs. Kate McCormack, revered teacher, who completed thirty years of faithful work in the Washington grammar school, was presented with a dainty tea set by the graduating class and a shower of smaller gifts from other girls at the close of school. The teachers of the local school presented her with a pretty set of silver teaspoons.

Miss Alice Noyes, another teacher resigning because she is to be married soon, was presented with a beautiful linen table set.

State Highway Patrol To Give Annual Dance

The State Highway Patrol officers are giving their annual benefit dance at Lake Olympia Monday, July third.

This fund is raised by the officers to assist in caring for the widows and orphans of officers killed in line of duty as they patrol our roads to make it safe for the traveling public. All money collected is placed in a fund and at the time of death widows or dependants receive $2,000.

Since last October $2,200 has been paid out of the fund by the patrol officers.

Tickets are only $1.00 and a fine time is assured all who attend this dance at beautiful Lake Olympia.

Mrs. Ernest Schreiber and daughter, Elsie, left Thursday to spend a couple of weeks in San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Roberts and two sons of Sacramento spent the week end wit his sister, Mrs. Madge Schwartz in Nevada City.

Mr. Walker, employed as a mill man at the Hoge mine, has purchased a home site in the Pollard tract of land northeast of Nevada City on the Tahoe-Ukiah highway and is having a cosy little cottage built by R. Stephens.

American Heroines

By LOUISE M. COMSTOCK

Mary Jemison

A WHITE woman, stolen from the feast celebrating her coming marriage to a white man only to become the willing bride of an Indian brave: that was Mary Jemison, the "White Squaw of the Genesee," one of the strangest and most romantic of all American heroines. Some have it that she actually did return to her own people late in life, but the fact that she died on the Buffalo Creek Indian reservation disputes that; others maintain she refused to return because her people would not accept also her half-breed son; many claim she became reconciled to her red captors and their mode of life and preferred it. Certainly in the sturdy figure clad in fringed Indian garments, wearing her hair in two long braids and carrying her baby papoose-fashion on her back that the sculptor has prepared for her memorial in Letchworth park, on the Genesee river in New York, there is freedom, confidence, even peace.

It was in 1758, during the French and Indian war, and when Mary was seventeen, that the Senecas swooped down upon her pioneer home at March creek, in Buchanan valley, Pennsylvania, massacring all the family and carrying the girl off with them. At Fort Duquesne her captors turned her over to two old squaws, who took her with them to Ohio. Here, as Deh-gahan-nus, "all things good," she began her life as an Indian, and here two years later she wedded Sheninjee, warrior of the Delawares, and later bore to him her son, Thomas Jemison.

The next spring, her son strapped to her back, this white girl set out with her husband, and two Indian brothers to sell furs at Fort Pitt. From there the brothers and Mary journeyed on to the Genesee, five hundred miles beyond over harsh wilderness trails, leaving Sheninjee behind to join them the next spring. Mary reached the Genesee, but she never saw her young husband again. Indian trappers brought her news of his death.

When the baby she had carried with her from the Ohio was four, Mary married again, Hiokatoo, known as a "bad" chief, but apparently a kind husband. By him she had six children whose sole claim to the attention of the historian it seems was in examples of inherited "badness." Hiokatoo died "of consumption" at one hundred and three. In 1797, at a Big Tree Council of the Six Nations, Mary was given deed to a tract of 17,000 acres, included now in Letchworth park. In 1825 the Senecas sold their holdings in this region to the whites, but Mary retained her property and lived on, surrounded by her children and grandchildren, an alien among her own people. A few years before her death, in 1833, she moved to the reservation, returning at the last to sanctuary among her adopted people.
